

LEECH CUP

The Leech Cup is a masterpiece of the Irish silversmith's art as practiced in the Victorian period. It is a silver tankard, heavily embossed and surmounted by a representation of an ancient tower in ruins.

It was presented to the Amateur Rifle Club of New York by MAJ Arthur Blennerhassett Leech, Captain of the Irish Rifle Team on the occasion of that team's visit to America in 1874. The Leech Cup is the oldest trophy offered today in competitive target shooting in the United States. The Leech Cup was presented to the NRA in 1901 by the Amateur Rifle Club of New York.

The Cup was lost after the National Matches of 1913, and was not recovered until 1927. Its loss resulted in the action by the NRA Board of Directors that requires all NRA trophies to be kept by NRA Headquarters. The trophy is awarded each year in the NRA National High Power Championships.

Match Conditions:

- 1902 Five shots each distance, 800, 900 and 1000 yards, with the Service Rifle.
- 1903 Seven shots each distance, 800, 900 and 1000 yards, with Service rifle.
- 1917 Seven shots each distance 600, 800 and 1000 yards, with Service Rifle.
- 1940 20 shots at 1000 yards.
- 1951 20 shots at 600 yards. Awarded to the competitor achieving the highest score with the Service Rifle in the Marine Corps Cup Match.
- 1953 Two sighting shots and 20 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle, with metallic sights.
- 1976 Unlimited practice firing and 20 shots for record, with any rifle, metallic sights, 1000 yards, slow fire, prone.
- 1979 Winner (only) determined by a shoot-off of the highest-scoring competitor from each relay. 10 shots slow fire, prone, at 1000 yards for the shoot-off.
